SciScore Report

Below you will find your SciScore report containing three tables. Your score is calculated based on adherence to scientific rigor criteria (Table 1) and identification of key biological resources (Table 2). Table 3 contains statistical tests and oligonucleotides but is not scored. If SciScore makes any mistakes, please contact us to help us learn and improve.

A qualification plan consists of the following main sections: Projects: defines references to all project repositories of PBPK substance model snapshots (file in JSON format) and potential dependencies with inheritance of certain building blocks between projects.	Projects
An extensive literature search (mainly via PubMed(r), the University of Washington Drug Interaction Database (DIDB), 22 Google Scholar, and references within articles) was conducted to compile in the OSP PK database a comprehensive data set of clinical DDI studies between the compounds of the network.	Google Scholar		Suggestion: Google Scholar (RRID:SCR_008878)(link)

SciScore is an automated tool that is designed to assist expert reviewers by finding and presenting formulaic information scattered throughout a paper in a standard, easy to digest format. SciScore is not a substitute for expert review. SciScore also checks for the presence and correctness of several unique identifiers, including RRIDs (research resource identifiers) in the manuscript, detects sentences that appear to be missing RRIDs, and can even suggest RRIDs under certain circumstances. All RRID suggestions should be verified; only the author can know whether the suggestions are correct.
