SciScore Report

Below you will find your SciScore report containing three tables. Your score is calculated based on adherence to scientific rigor criteria (Table 1) and identification of key biological resources (Table 2). Table 3 contains statistical tests and oligonucleotides but is not scored. If SciScore makes any mistakes, please contact us to help us learn and improve.

Table 1: Rigor Adherence Table

Ethics
not required.
Inclusion and Exclusion Criteria
In particular , we considered a radius of 25 m around nest exact location each year (to account for GPS nominal error) and a threshold of 10 min of time difference to exclude excursions outside this radius (Bracis et al. 2018) .
Attrition
not required.
Sex as a biological variable
The Bonellis eagle is a dimorphic bird of prey with females being slightly larger than males.
Subject Demographics
Age: not required.
Weight: not required.
Randomization
not detected.
Blinding
not detected.
Power Analysis
not detected.
Replication
not required.
Data Information
Availability: Further details on description of the study area are available in Lopez-Lopez et al. (2007).

Statistical Tests
To account for the effect of multiple comparisons, we computed corrected P-values using the Benjamini-Hochberg multiple comparisons procedure for controlling the false discovery rate (Benjamini and Hochberg 1995).	Benjamini-Hochberg

SciScore is an automated tool that is designed to assist expert reviewers by finding and presenting formulaic information scattered throughout a paper in a standard, easy to digest format. SciScore is not a substitute for expert review. SciScore also checks for the presence and correctness of several unique identifiers, including RRIDs (research resource identifiers) in the manuscript, detects sentences that appear to be missing RRIDs, and can even suggest RRIDs under certain circumstances. All RRID suggestions should be verified; only the author can know whether the suggestions are correct.
